

Become a Channel Partner with US Signal

As a channel partner with US Signal you will be able to access the unlimited capacity and reliability of one of the most extensive regional fiber optic networks in the United States. US Signal is managed by focused and experienced industry professionals who know how to put you first in your market. With US Signal you will not only have the speed, quality and security of fiber optic technology, but also will have the advantage of structured support and service programs.

Understand the Difference

- Channel Manager

Assistance in the field with sales opportunities/prospecting, appointments and closings to help increase your business revenue.

- Sales Engineers

Always available for sales appointments providing you with the technical support and analysis your customers require.

- Flexible Commission Structure

Allows you the ability to choose between different options so you can make the appropriate choice whether you are an independent agent or if you are a business owner. You choose the best commission structure for your business.

- Web Pricer

Provides you with real time quotes for services, allowing you to manage all of your quotes in one place and to spend more time in front of your customers.

- Facility Tours

Provide your customers a first hand look at our technology and equipment to instill confidence in our network.

- Partner Website

Online portal for access to sales literature, forms, partner logos and promotional information.

- Sales Promotions and Incentives

Empowers you with tools and rewards for creating further success.

- Online Communications

Newsletters and announcements keeping you up to date on US Signal products and promotions for that competitive edge with your customers.

- Support You can Depend On

Presale, provisioning, installation, renewal assistance and account management; work with people who understand your business and care about you and your customers.